

Definition. We say that a function $g(x)$ is periodic if there is a positive or negative number T for which $g(x + T) = g(x)$ for all x . We call T a period of $g(x)$.